Christmas Concert To Be Given Dec. 10th

On December 10 the Andover Community Orchestra will present the customary Christmas concert, in collaboration with the Andover Male Choir and the Choral Society.

Seven years ago, the orchestra was founded by a small though enthusiastic group, meeting every week to play together in the parlor of a private house. Some of the most zealous players were actually learning to play their instruments for the first time. The members were almost entirely Andover residents. Today the group of eleven amateurs has developed into an organization of three score musicians, many of professional standing, and the membership now includes residents of neighboring communities as well.

The public concerts given by the orchestra have all taken place in the Memorial Auditorium, where the multicolored dresses of the ladies present a much gayer picture than the usual black and white orchestral group. Among the distinguished soloists who have played with the orchestra are pianists, duopianists, violinists and the conductor himself, George Brown, well-known as a 'cellist also. For the last three years the "Messiah" of

Local Garden Club's Efforts Appreciated

Praise for the excellent work done by the Andover Garden Club at the Lovell General Hospital at Fort Devens is contained in two letters received this week by Mrs. Charles Arnold, president of the Andover Garden Club. The letters follow:

Garden Clubs Service,
Horticultural Hall,
300 Huntington Avenue,
Boston, Massachusetts.

Dear Mrs. Arnold:

Now that the summer work has come to an end I wish to thank the members of the Andover Garden Club for their splendid cooperation. The Club has not only done its share in providing flowers on the days assigned, but many other times during the summer. Any request for greens, extra flowers and containers has been willingly met. It is only by the response from the Garden Clubs assigned to Lovell General Hospital (south) that we have been able to meet the demands asked of us, and those have been many as the weeks went by.

The Chapel has been beautifully done each week by the Garden Clubs, each Club taking its turn when it came.

A copy of a letter from the Red Cross Field Director is enclosed. It shows very clearly that the work

Two Andover Boys Now Reported Dead Pfc. William Muller and Lieut. Ray Hickey Had Been Listed as Missing

Two local families who have steadfastly refused to give up hope that their sons, reported missing in action since June, were safe, received a cruel blow Thanksgiving Day. The War Department notified Police Sergeant and Mrs. William R. Hickey, that their son, Lt. Raymond W. Hickey is officially listed as having been killed on May 20th following a raid over Austria.

Mr. and Mrs. George Muller of High Plain road were notified that their son, Pfc. William R. Muller, was killed on June 9th, presumably during the invasion of Normandy. The telegram was received Wednesday evening.

Punchard Ends Successful Season By Defeating Johnson 13-6; Local Team Won 4, Lost 4, Tied 1

Captain Gie Collins and his senior teammates spearheaded PUNCHARD to a fitting climax to a good local season when the Gold and Blue pounded out a 13-6 victory over arch rival Johnson High school last Saturday at the playstead before 1600 shivering fans.

Johnson rushed to an early lead when a pass interception by the rival center, followed by a long run, was ruled a touchdown by Referee Bevans. A hot argument ensued as the PUNCHARD coaches and team members contended that safety man Fred McCollum had brought the flying Johnson speedster to earth on the four-yard line. The touchdown ruling was held to and the PUNCHARD line swarmed over the try for point after touchdown rush by Neketuk.

PUNCHARD took over the game from that point on, except for a Johnson drive in the third quarter which reached the Andover 12-yard line only to be thwarted by a hard-tackling PUNCHARD frontier. Phil Markey tossed a perfect pass to Fred McCollum in the end zone for the initial six-pointer and a determined PUNCHARD drive following the second half kickoff resulted in a march of 65 yards for the winning touchdown when Phil Markey bulled over from the Johnson two-yard stripe. A surprise pass from Norm Bendroth in place-kick formation, to Fred McCollum put the game on ice and ended the day's scoring. The PUNCHARD team outplayed its North Andover rivals, gaining nine first downs to six for the visitors and grinding out 132 yards to Johnson's 65, most of which came in the third quarter.

PUNCHARD defeated Wilmington, Danvers, Chelmsford, and Johnson to total four wins. A tie with Ipswich resulted from an Ipswich interception of a PUNCHARD pass when the Collinsmen were apparently on their way to a third touchdown and on the Ipswich eight-yard line. PUNCHARD ran into Reading, Stoneham, and Methuen when these three teams were at their strongest. Each of this trio has lost only one game apiece this year. Concord tipped over the locals 14-0 in the opener. The next week four of the Concord regulars entered the service. PUNCHARD won 4, lost 4 and tied 1 this fall.

P. O. Anticipates Unprecedented Load

Only two weeks remain for buying and mailing Christmas gifts to all Mid-Western and Southern States for assured Christmas delivery, according to Stephen A. Boland, Acting Postmaster. The final date is November 25th for both military forces stationed in this area as well as civilians. Christmas cards for these States must be mailed no later than December 1st. Gifts and parcels for delivery in the Pacific Coast States must be mailed at least four days earlier than the above dates.

Snow which began falling in some of the Atlantic Seaboard States as early as last Saturday brought new troubles to an already overtaxed postal service. Postoffice men don't dream of a "White Christmas." Said Stephen A. Boland, Acting Postmaster "a 'White Christmas' means trains either snow bound or running hours late, it means planes grounded which throws an extra load on the rails, it means trucks breaking down or buried in drifts, it means a big delay in delivery, it means choked collection boxes. These are the things we avoided last year and which we dread this coming Christmas. We are already drastically short of trains, trucks and other equipment. Those who follow peacetime years and mail at the last minute will find that delivery in most instances will not be realized before Christmas.

"Furthermore, a great many parcels addressed to servicemen stationed in the United States will have to be re-forwarded. This cannot be accomplished in a matter of hours or days, I ask each and every person to take this matter seriously—it is your problem as well as that of the postoffice. As usual, priority will be given to mail for the armed forces, official and business mail. However, before we can segregate business or military mail we must handle all the mail. It is running now in heavier loads than ever before. Buy your gifts now in November and mail them in November. Mail your cards before December 1st or for local delivery cards must be mailed before December 13th."

"My, am I thankful!"

Mother says the point of Thanksgiving Day is for people to think hard about all their blessings, and be thankful.

That's what I'm doing now. I'm thankful for mother and daddy . . . and for having outgrown scratchy pins . . .

and for my yellow creeper suit . . . and the new crib Grandma gave me . . . and for all the fascinating things in our backyard.

I'm also thankful for my good appetite. It makes life so interesting. Right now, I've got my 4 p. m. cup of creamy, extra-delicious Hood's milk to look forward to . . . and will I be thankful when it comes!

NEWS OF OUR MEN AND WOMEN IN UNIFORM

Sgt. Foster D. Zink is still working in the Weapons Section training Engineer Soldiers for combat at Ft. Leonard Wood, in Missouri.

PFC John S. Auchterlonie is also on Leyte in the Philippines with an Army Field Artillery unit. He took part in the invasion of the Marshalls and was at one time in New Guinea. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Auchterlonie of 62 Essex street and has a brother Robert, MM 3/c serving with the Seabees in France.

The Lawrence brothers, Robert, George, Benjamin, Charles, and Joseph, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lawrence of Clark road, Ballardvale, are stationed in the various theatres of war. Corporal George Lawrence is in France with the Quartermaster Corps, Private Benjamin Lawrence is also in France with an Engineers battalion. Sergeant Joseph Lawrence is at Camp Claiborne, La., after serving in New Guinea. Private Charles Lawrence is also in France with the Quartermaster Corps, and Flight Officer Robert Lawrence has just received his commission at Midland Army Air Field, Texas, where he was a member of the first class of Negro air crew members to be graduated from bombardier school after a rigid eighteen weeks' course. He is now qualified as a bombardier-navigator and will soon take over his duties aboard a B-25 bomber.

We have a notice from Camp Berkeley, Texas, saying that among those who received commissions on Nov. 15th as second lieutenants in the Medical Administrative Corps at the Camp Berkeley Officer Candidate School Graduation was John D. Powell, 31, 5 Avon street, son of Mrs. Mary S. Powell, 14 Cabot Rd.

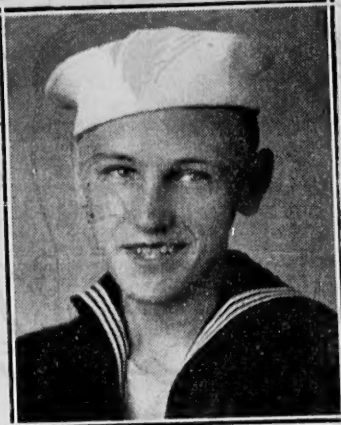

The graduation completed four months of training for the men commissioned including courses of instruction in medical administration, supply, organization of the army, sanitation, first aid, chemical warfare tactics, training and logistics.

Each of the new lieutenants has been granted a ten-day leave prior to reporting to his new station.

It is reported that Lt. William P. Renny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ann Renny, of 7 Walnut avenue recently visited relatives in Scotland. "Well," said his grandfather when Lt. Renny appeared at the door, "you're one of the Rennys, but I don't know which one." He also visited several other relatives while in Scotland. He is now stationed in the British Isles.

Word has been received that Corporal Donald A. Spinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spinney, and Corporal Joseph Barrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Barrett, both of Chestnut street, have arrived in San Diego, California, on their way home after serving for two years with the Marines in the South Pacific area.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hilton of Lowell St. have received word that their son Sgt. Irving Hilton has been awarded the Infantry Combat Medal for meritorious service in action with the Third Army in France.

William F. Heidenreich, Jr., S 2-c, U.S.N., son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Heidenreich, 1 Walker Ave., is a former part-time employee of the Andover Townsman. While attending Pynchard High school, a student in the Civil Air Patrol, he left school to enlist in the U.S.N. He started his boot training May 12, 1944, at Sampson, N. Y., and after seven weeks of boot training was home on leave one week, after which he was transferred to Shoemaker, Calif., for amphibious training. Since August 8, 1944, he has served overseas with the U. S. N. in the South Pacific.

Charles D. Powell has completed his course at officers candidate school and received the commission of a second lieutenant on November 15. He is stationed at Camp Berkeley, Texas. He took his basic training at Camp Blanding, and served at camps in Arkansas and Florida before being selected for officers candidate school. Before his induction into the service he was a life insurance agent.

Word has been received that Corporal James M. Holden, son of Mrs. George Gordon of North Main Street is now stationed with an infantry cannon company in France.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Hagan, 1 Baker Lane that their son, Pvt. Peter O'Hagan, prisoner of the German army for 21 days, has escaped from the prison camp and is now recuperating with his unit somewhere in Luxembourg. A carefully censored letter was received from Private O'Hagan which he had reportedly written while in German hands, stating that he was "treated wonderfully, having a fine time."

Captured in Brest, France, the young soldier was first reported missing by the War Department, but he dispatched another letter to his family just as soon as he returned to the American lines.

Pvt. O'Hagan entered the service two years ago, and has been overseas for ten months of that time. Before entering the Army he was a senior at Pynchard high school, where he played on the football team. He has three other brothers in the Army: Pvt. First Class, James O'Hagan, at Camp Lee, Va., recovering from four bullet wounds received on the Anzio beachhead, Pfc Edward J. O'Hagan, with an artillery unit in Saipan; and Sgt. John O'Hagan, stationed in South Carolina.

Corporal Robert W. Hinman now has an APO address c/o Postmaster, San Francisco.

There has been a noticeable drop in the number of letters coming into the Townsman office these days. Most of the information we pass on to our readers, at home and abroad comes from official notices sent to us from Government centers. Therefore, when one arrives with the personal touch, it is a great temptation to print it in toto.

We received one on Monday from Herbert Wormwood, who is somewhere in England. He writes: "Judging from an article that I read in one of the local papers, our system of electing a president doesn't seem quite right to the people over here."

"... The people here seem friendly enough but many things seem strange. Most of us are having some difficulty with the English money. Many of the customs cause us to wonder how they started. For instance—driving on the left hand side of the road. There probably is a good reason for it all."

Somewhere in the Pacific (Delayed)—An Andover Marine was awarded the Purple Heart Medal for wounds suffered during the battle of Tinian in the Marianas Islands. The award was made by Major General Clifton B. Cates, of Tiptonville, Tenn., Commanding General of the Fourth Marine Division, at recent ceremonies here. The Marine is Pfc. George E. Monan, 19, of 7 Argyle St.

In making the award, General Cates said, "I wish you many more medals, but no more Purple Hearts." The Purple Heart is the oldest American military decoration, having been conceived by our first Commander-in-Chief, President George Washington.

Monan, a member of a Pioneer Battalion, has fully recovered from his wounds and returned to active duty.

Ensign Donald B. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cole of 16 High street, commands one of the small landing boats of the U. S. S. Lamar, which has actively participated in the battle of Leyte and Guam.

Chief Petty Officer Abbott Batchelder is enjoying a well earned leave at his home on Argilla Rd. His trip during the past six months has taken him as far north as Greenland where the ship with its crew had some exciting adventures with a German submarine. The ship is now in Portsmouth where it is receiving much needed repairs. C.P.O. Batchelder will report for further orders Dec. 1.

Word has been received that Marine Technical Sergeant Charles H. Spinney, Jr., USMC has graduated from the Amphibian Tractor Maintenance School at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif. Sgt. Spinney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Spinney, Sr., of 97 Chestnut street, was born in Andover, and attended Pynchard High school. Prior to his enlistment in the service in 1934, he was employed as a truck driver by the H. & S. transfer company. His wife resides in California.

Pfc. Gerard N. Twomey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Twomey, 20 Haverhill street is now somewhere in France with the Seventh Army.

From France comes word that Second Lt. Frank Koza, 119 Andover street, pilot on a B-24 Liberator bomber has received the Air Medal for meritorious achievement in combat over Europe, it was announced by Major-General William E. Kepner, commanding general of the Second Heavy Bombardment Division. The citation, presented by Colonel Lorin L. Johnson, read: "For exceptionally meritorious achievement, while participating in bomber combat missions over enemy occupied Continental Europe. The courage, coolness and skill displayed by this man on these occasions reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States."

Lt. Koza is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Antoni S. Koza. He attended Pynchard High school, and was last employed by the Gengra Electric company.

Miss Doris A. Manthorne was married to Pvt. Robert Bock, of Chicago, Illinois, on August 18th. at a quiet military wedding in the Chapel at Forrest Glenn, Maryland.

Pfc. Ernest Braddon, is now at Presidio of San Francisco, California. He thinks the west is a great place, but would just as soon be back in Andover.

Lt. Frederic Stott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Stott, Phillips street, recently pitched his Marine regiment to a 6 to 0 victory over a coast artillery team in a game played "Somewhere in the Pacific." Lt. Stott, who pitched for Phillips Academy and Amherst College while attending school, allowed but six hits, and failed to issue a single pass, striking out 14 opposing batsmen. He taught at Governor Dummer Academy in Byfield for two years before enlisting in the Marine Corps in 1942. He has been overseas since January.

Two ships recently docked side by side in an English port, and two boys, cousins and neighbors, who had not met for two years saw each other again. On one ship was Alfred R. Catanzaro, Machinists' Mate, Cfirst class, USNR, son of Anthony Catanzaro of 44A Corbett street, who has been overseas since March of 1943, and took part in the invasion of Normandy. His cousin, who awoke one morning to discover Catanzaro's ship tied up alongside his own, is William M. LaRosa, son of

There'll Come a Day

The war is going to be over some day. Because a lot of businessmen aren't remembering that, we hope that a lot of customers will.

While our boys and girls are in all parts of the world fighting for independence, a great many of our businessmen have become very independent. People who used to be so anxious to get your business, now just can't be bothered. Instead, they give you the impression that they're doing you a favor by letting you do business with them.

That's not the case in general with your local small-town businessman. You know who he is; he's that neighbor of yours that you don't mind calling on at any hour for free advice or for a little extra service, or even to go down to open his store on a Sunday for something that you think you need. He's the fellow that reaches home for a bite to eat at six o'clock, only to be interrupted by a telephone call from you after the first mouthful of soup. He's the fellow that's playing bridge at home on a Sunday evening in a brief effort to forget the cares of business, only to be interrupted by a business 'phone call. He's the fellow who, when you have any considerable amount of shopping to do, you practically forget about.

until after you have tried all the Boston sources. Then you come home and find that your local merchant had what you need all along!

So when the war is all over, remember your local merchant. Remember that he did his very best, in spite of all the extra work it caused him, to get the thing that you need. When it's all over, pay him back for everything he has done for you, and remember the big firms which just couldn't be bothered with going out of their way to satisfy your needs.

This Sober Town

Burning Leaves

Do you ever give much thought to that pile of burning elm leaves in the fall? Do you just burn them to get them out of the way, or do you think of what a grand place New England is in the fall?

Well, move away, and you'll miss that pile of burning elm leaves. Go to California, where the Chambers of Commerce have preached sunshine and eternal summer — and you'll wish you could have a pile of leaves to burn. We received a letter this week from a man who moved to California this summer — and this is what he says: "I often think of Andover. I would trade our palm-lined streets for a few piles of burning elm leaves on Essex street. Funny how you miss things like burning leaves, frost on the grass. Here it is one foggy morning after another with sunshine in the p.m."

Of course it was Father Austin, former pastor of St. Augustine's, who somehow or other really can't ever be considered "former." Andover grew on him — and he grew on Andover; to the present generation, he will always be a part of Andover, even if he is out in Hollywood.

Excerpts from his letter follow: "I have been very lonesome for Andover and all its good people.

"This is a nice parish and fine people. The tempo seems so different. I think they have a divine discontent. We have quite a few coming in for instructions to enter the church.

"I know people think of Hollywood as a playground. I find the people most serious. Perhaps it is an effort to correct the evil of Hollywood that prompts thinking people to make every effort to balk it. Mothers are most active to have their children come under the influence of the church. After the war, this will be a great parish.

Even now it is very active. I have a couple of miles of Hollywood Blvd. in the Parish. The famous center, Hollywood and Vine, is about two miles away."

C. D. A. To Hold "Kiddie Party"

Court St. Monica, No. 783, Catholic Daughters of America, will hold a Kiddie Party Social on Monday evening, November 27, in St. Augustine's School Hall. Admission will be a gift to the Baby Booth being sponsored by the Catholic Daughters at St. Augustine's pre-Christmas Fair in December. The committee for the social will be Mrs. Florence V. Naughton, Chairman, Mrs. Anna Baillargeon, Mrs. Dina Poisson, and Mrs. Leda Schultz.

The regular business meeting and Christmas party will be held on Monday, December 11.

Garden Club

has been very much appreciated, and that we must work harder, if possible, another year. The demands on the Garden Clubs will not lessen for some time, they will grow as time goes on.

Christmas is our next big project, the work shop in the Recreation Hall will be open at ten o'clock on December 20th. We hope as many members as possible will come up and help with the work. The North Andover Club has been asked to share the work of decorating the Chapel with the Andover Club. We know you will enjoy doing it and we also know it will be very nicely done.

It has been a pleasure meeting and working with many of you this summer and we are looking forward to another busy summer next year. Thanking you again for your loyal support, I am

Sincerely yours,
Eva G. Twombly,

American Red Cross,
Office of the Field Director,
Lovell General Hospital,
Fort Devens, Massachusetts.
Mrs. Harold Twombly,
Lawson Road,
Winchester, Massachusetts.
My dear Mrs. Twombly:

I would prefer to write each club individually to thank them for their contribution throughout the past season to the patients of this hospital. Time and personnel are limited, so I am asking your help once again in conveying my message to the participating garden clubs.

First, tell them that the flowers sent by them are always very beautiful. Fridays have come to be known generally as flower day and, as such, anticipated from the lowliest private to our own Commanding Officer, who never failed to be around to admire the beautiful arrangements.

Secondly, the year-round service that "our" garden clubs are rendering is truly developing a love and appreciation of flowers, plus a greater knowledge and interest in them. That flowers can still arrive here during the dreary winter months is further tribute to the service that the clubs are rendering the patients here at Lovell General Hospital.

Thirdly, I would like especially to thank the ladies who have come regularly to the hospital to arrange these flowers, and to Mrs. Harold Twombly an especially fine honorable mention for her quiet, efficient manner of organizing the work of the garden service committee.

On behalf of the patients here who, I know, have appreciated and benefited by the flowers, the hospital personnel and the Red Cross staff, I extend our sincere appreciation and gratitude to the garden service committee for the valuable work they have done for the patient morale of this hospital.

Sincerely,
Mary Louise Burns,
Field Director

LIBRARY NOTES

The Young People's Room of the Memorial Hall Library was the scene of great activity last week during its annual celebration of Book Week. The room was attractively decorated with children's books and a display of South American picture books loaned by the Pan American Union. During the week, Miss Sarah A. Ballard, the children's librarian, visited among the classes of the public schools to tell stories and stimulate interest in reading. Monday afternoon an Open House was held for students of the Andover Junior High School, and on Thursday afternoon for the public school children, with an attendance of over two hundred. Each year the young people are encouraged by the book week observance to turn to reading for many pleasurable hours.

GOV'T. NEEDS CLERKS

In order that applicants who are interested in employment in Washington, D. C., as Clerks, Typists, or Stenographers, but who were unable to report for interview last week, Mrs. Katherine M. Frye, Recruiting Representative of the United States Civil Service Commission, will be stationed at the United States Employment Service Office in Lawrence on Tuesday, Nov. 28th, from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. These vacancies exist with the Veterans' Administration with a 30-day training period at the Veterans' Administration in Bedford, Mass. During this period, room and board may be obtained at the hospital for $40 per month. At the expiration of the 30 days, appointees will be transferred to Washington at Government expense. Housing accommodations will be arranged prior to arrival in Washington. Washington, D. C., offers a large variety of educational opportunities, and recreational facilities. Employee Counselors are always available, and any girl who uses common sense in her selection of friends and activities will be as safe in Washington as in her own backyard. Under War Manpower Regulations persons employed at their highest skill in essential or locally needed activity need not apply.

MASS OF THANKSGIVING

A mass of thanksgiving was celebrated at St. Augustine's church on Thanksgiving Day in gratitude to God for blessings received, and special prayers for a speedy, just and lasting peace.

The Shawsheen school was closed all day Monday because of a minor breakdown in the heating system. Classes were resumed on Tuesday.

Mrs. George Quesenbury of 75 Stevens street is a surgical patient at the Lawrence General Hospital where she is successfully recovering from an appendectomy.

Abbot Academy Notes

Many of the faculty and a majority of the students spent Thanksgiving Day with families or friends in Andover, North Andover, Lawrence or Greater Boston. The small group remaining at the school enjoyed a real New England Thanksgiving dinner, there. The traditional Thanksgiving service, which has been held with little change for about eighty years, took place in the chapel on Wednesday night with a number of parents of the students present.

On Saturday afternoon there will be a tea dance for the girls of the Junior and Junior Middle Classes. That night Mary Hutchinson, gifted young American actress, will present a program of dramatic portraits in which great ladies from great plays and from history are brought to life before the eyes of the audience. Miss Hutchinson is a graduate of the Theatre and the John Murray Anderson-Robert Milton School. She entered Barnard College at the age of 15 and during her freshman year conducted classes in ballet during weekend visits to her home in eastern Pennsylvania. She has appeared in many Broadway productions, both the drama and musical comedy in select summer theatre groups of the eastern section; she has taken coast-to-coast tours, and has participated in broadcasts over stations WJZ, WOR, WHN, and WINS. Her program at Abbot will be as follows:

The Rivals, MacBeth, A tale of Vienna Today, Maid of Orleans, Romeo and Juliet, Epilogue-Puck.

The public is cordially invited to attend in Davis Hall at 8:30 P. M.

The Reverend M. Russell Boynton, D. D., of the First Church in Boston, will be the vesper speaker at 7:30 o'clock Sunday in Abbot Hall.

If It Isn't Too Much To Ask...

Stukas and bombs and shrapnel—
Hell through the night and day—
Muck and the blood of buddies—
Grief in the awesome fray—
Struggle and thirst and torture...
These are not asked of YOU;
All that is asked is painless—
Buying a bond or two!

II.

Minefield and trap and pillbox—
Into the jaws of death—
Giving your all, and hearing
Many a pal's last breath...
Anguish and heat and hunger—
None of these must YOU face...
You are but asked for money—
Dross from some hiding place!

III.

Hand grenade, gun and mortar—
Sweat with a crimson hue—
Death in a field in autumn—
This is not asked of YOU!
Eyes that are blank and sightless—
Wounds that will ever burn—
*Who can call duty buying
Bonds at a neat return?*

IV.

Kids on a distant beachhead,
Dead where the waters lap—
Flyers in burning airplanes—
Boys in a boobytrap—
This is THEIR patriotism...
Why are we free to choose
Merely a safe investment,
Knowing we cannot lose?

V.

"Get at that pillbox, soldier!"...
"Mop up that nest there, Joe!"...
"Bayonets! On the double!"...
These calls YOU will not know;
Merely some songs, some music—
Merely a slight request,
"If you can spare the money,
Mister, will you invest?"

Sacrifice? Courage? Duty?
How can we call it so—
Helping a bit with silver—
Lending some paltry dough.

Concert

Handel has been the feature of the mid-winter concerts. The Andover Male Choir, a much older organization, and the Choral Society have been the mainstays of the Oratorio concerts and have almost become a tradition with the orchestra. This year only selections from the Oratorio will be given, but the whole concert will have a Christmas significance.

Several members of the founding group of the orchestra are now serving in the Armed Forces. It is the hope of their fellow musicians that the youthful spirit and enthusiasm of the first days, not only in the orchestra but among its friends, will still be here to greet them when they take up their places and instruments once again.

The program for the Christmas concert follows:

Christmas Overture
Orchestra
Coleridge-Taylor

Solo Group
Andover Male Choir
Three Christmas Songs
Gustav Holst

Chorus and Orchestra
Solo Group
Andover Choral Society
